

1 FINDINGS OF FACT

2 1. On January 19, 2018, under letter id. no. L1944095536, the Department issued an 3 assessment to the Taxpayer for gross receipts taxes from January 31, 2010 through May 31, 4 2017. The assessment was for tax of $45,082.10, penalty of $9,016.42, and interest of 5 $7,069.35, for a total liability of $61,167.87. [L1944095536].

6 2. On April 11, 2018, the Taxpayer filed a timely written protest to the assessment.
7 [Administrative file].

8 3. On April 16, 2018, the Department acknowledged its receipt of the protest.
9 [Administrative file].

10 4. On May 18, 2018, the Department filed a request for hearing with the 11 Administrative Hearings Office. [Administrative file].

12 5. On June 1, 2018, the Taxpayer waived the 90-day requirement of the statute when 13 it requested a continuance of the initial hearing that was set.<sup>1</sup> [Administrative file].

14 6. On June 29, 2018, the first telephonic scheduling hearing was conducted, which 15 was within 90 days of the protest as required<sup>2</sup>. [Administrative file].

16 7. On July 13, 2018, a second telephonic scheduling hearing was conducted, and a 17 date for a hearing on the merits was selected. [Administrative file].

18 8. The hearing on the merits was continued several times at the requests of the 19 parties. The hearing on the merits was ultimately set for April 17, 2020. [Administrative file].

<sup>1</sup> At the time that the protest was filed, the statute required a hearing be held within 90 days of the receipt of the protest. See NMSA 1978, § 7-1B-8 (2015). The statute now requires a hearing be held within 90 days of the Department’s request for hearing. See NMSA 1978, § 7-1B-8 (2019).

1           9.       On March 23, 2020, the parties filed a stipulated request to stay and to set a status
2 hearing because of the recently declared public health state of emergency<sup>3</sup>. [Administrative file].

3           10.       On June 26, 2020, the telephonic status hearing was conducted. At that hearing, 4 the parties agreed to submit stipulated facts and arguments and requested that the protest be 5 decided on the pleadings. The request was granted, and deadlines were given. [Administrative 6 file].

7           11.       After several extensions of time, the final deadlines were set for November 16, 8 2020 to submit the stipulated facts, for arguments on January 11, 2021, and for final responses 9 on January 21, 2021. [Administrative file].

10          12.       The parties timely filed the stipulated facts (SF) with exhibits 1 through 14 (Ex.
11 #), their arguments (Taxpayer's Brief and Department's Motion), and their responses 12 (Taxpayer's Response and Department's Reply). [Administrative file].

13          13.       On January 28, 2021, the Hearing Officer issued an order for clarification 14 requesting additional facts, with a deadline of February 19, 2021 for submission of facts or a 15 motion for evidentiary hearing. The Taxpayer filed additional facts on February 18, 2021 (AF).
16 The Department filed its response on February 18, 2021 and did not contest the AF.
17 [Administrative file].

18          14.       The Taxpayer is incorporated in California, has its principal place of business in 19 California, and did not have an office or keep equipment in New Mexico during its performance 20 of services in New Mexico. [SF, p. 1, ¶ 1].

21          15.       The Taxpayer performs demilitarization and disposal services for the U.S.
22 military. [SF, p. 1, ¶ 1].

1           16.     The U.S. Air Force Air Combat Command (ACC)<sup>4</sup>, one of ten major commands 2 that make up the Air Force, is headquartered at Langley Joint Air Force Base in northern 3 Virginia, and the Air Force secretariat is located at the Pentagon in Arlington, Virginia. [SF, p.
4 1, ¶ 2].

5           17.     In 2011, the ACC requested bids for the demilitarization and disposal of items at 6 30 training facilities in 20 different states, including two range sites in New Mexico (Oscura 7 range and Melrose range). [SF, p. 2, ¶ 5; Ex. #2; Ex. #4].

8           18.     Demilitarization and disposal of range debris must be done according to the 9 federal standards and regulations. [SF, p. 2, ¶ 3-4; Ex. #2, Ex. #3].

10          19.     The ACC informed bidders that New Mexico assesses gross receipts tax on 11 business conducted within the state and that tax is imposed on the basis of revenue derived from 12 business operations within the state without regard to the location of the entity. Bidders were 13 presumed to include this cost of doing business in their bids. [SF, p. 4, ¶ 10; Ex. #4].

14          20.     Taxpayer prepared a bid to perform the demilitarization services and submitted 15 the bid to Langley. [SF, p. 4, ¶ 11].

16          21.     The Taxpayer was awarded the contract. [SF, p. 4, ¶ 11; Ex. #5].

17          22.     Pursuant to the contract, the Taxpayer was to perform range residue removal 18 services, that is to demilitarize and remove munitions debris, from the Oscura test range located 19 within White Sands Missile Range in New Mexico. [SF, p. 4, ¶ 12; Ex. #6]. Pursuant to the 20 contract, the Taxpayer was to perform range residue removal services, that is to demilitarize and

1 dispose of range debris, at the Melrose test range, located near Cannon Air Force Base in New 2 Mexico. [SF, p. 7, ¶ 20; Ex. #10].

3 23. The Taxpayer's responsibilities under the contract included inspecting the range 4 site, preparing work and quality control plans for the demilitarization and disposal of range 5 debris, determining if the materials were hazardous, rendering such materials safe or removing 6 them from the process if they could not be rendered safe, reducing the materials to marketable 7 salvage, and disposing of materials that were not marketable. [SF, p. 3, ¶ 6; Ex. #2; AF].

8 24. The Taxpayer's services took place at a designated range holding area, usually 9 locations of one to five acres at each range site, where the military had deposited the range 10 debris. [AF, p. 3, ¶ 7 and its affidavit].

11 25. The Taxpayer was also required to submit a work site plan before it began work 12 and to submit a final report when the work was finished. [SF, p. 3, ¶ 7; Ex. #2, Ex. #4; Ex. #6; 13 Ex. #10].

14 26. The contract did not pass the title to any of the property processed or 15 demilitarized to the Taxpayer. [SF, p.4, ¶ 8; Ex. #2.; Ex. #7, Ex. #11].

16 27. The contract designates Langley as the place where supplies and services will be 17 inspected, accepted, and delivered. [SF, p. 4, ¶ 9; Ex. #4; Ex. #6; Ex. #10].

18 28. In 2012, the Taxpayer sent a team of employees to inspect the Oscura range and 19 submitted a work plan to Langley. The Taxpayer coordinated with the Oscura range's manager 20 in preparing its work plan. [SF, p. 5, ¶ 14; Ex. #8].

21 29. After the work plan was approved, the Taxpayer inspected the Oscura range's 22 debris for hazardous materials and remediated or removed such materials. [SF, p. 5-6, ¶ 15; Ex.
23 #9].

1           30.     The Taxpayer brought several pieces of heavy machinery to the Oscura range for 2 use in the demilitarization<sup>5</sup> of the remaining debris. [SF, p. 6, ¶ 16; Ex. #9].

3           31.     The Taxpayer reduced 1047 tons of range debris from the Oscura range into 4 salvageable/recyclable scrap, which was sold to a salvage yard in Texas. [SF, p. 6, ¶ 17; Ex. #9].

5           32.     The Taxpayer disposed of 187 tons of unsalvageable debris from the Oscura range 6 at a landfill in New Mexico. [SF, p. 6, ¶ 18; Ex. #9].

7           33.     The Taxpayer's final report on the Oscura range was delivered to the ACC at 8 Langley and to the range manager in New Mexico. [SF, p. 6-7, ¶ 18; Ex. #6].

9           34.     The Taxpayer's gross receipts for work done at the Oscura range totaled 10 $570,520.00, from August 2012 to September 2013. [SF, p. 7, ¶ 19; Ex. #8].

11          35.     In 2013, the Taxpayer sent a team of employees to inspect the Melrose range and 12 submitted a work plan to Langley. The Taxpayer coordinated with the Melrose range's manager 13 in preparing its work plan. [SF, p. 8, ¶ 21; Ex. #10; Ex. #12].

14          36.     After the work plan was approved, the Taxpayer inspected the Melrose range's 15 debris for hazardous materials and remediated or removed such materials. [SF, p. 8, ¶ 22; Ex.
16 #13].

17          37.     The Taxpayer brought special equipment to the Melrose range for use in the 18 demilitarization of the remaining debris. [SF, p. 8, ¶ 22; Ex. #13].

19          38.     The Taxpayer reduced 320.6 tons of range debris from the Melrose range into 20 recyclable materials, which were sold to a salvage yard in New Mexico. [SF, p. 8, ¶ 23; Ex. #12; 21 Ex. #13].

<sup>5</sup> That is to crush or to shear the debris into pieces that meet the federal standards and regulations.

1 39. The Taxpayer disposed of 20.7 tons of unsalvageable debris from the Melrose 2 range at a landfill in New Mexico. [SF, p. 8-9, ¶ 23; Ex. #13].

3 40. The Taxpayer's final report on the Melrose range was delivered to the ACC at 4 Langley and to the range manager in New Mexico. [SF, p. 9, ¶ 23; Ex. #10].

5 41. The Taxpayer's gross receipts for work done at the Melrose range totaled 6 $313,170.00, from September 2013 to February 2014. [SF, p. 9, ¶ 24; Ex. #12].

7 42. The Taxpayer did not pay New Mexico gross receipts tax on its receipts from the 8 services that it performed at the Oscura range or at the Melrose range. [SF, p. 9, ¶ 25; Ex. #14].

9 43. The Taxpayer believed its services were not subject to the gross receipts tax 10 because the work was performed for the ACC. [SF, p. 9, ¶ 25; Ex. #14].

11 DISCUSSION

12 Burden of Proof.

13 Assessments by the Department are presumed to be correct. See NMSA 1978, § 7-1-17 14 (C) (2017). Therefore, the assessment issued to the Taxpayer is presumed to be correct, and it is 15 the Taxpayer's burden to present evidence and legal argument to show that it is entitled to an 16 abatement.

17 Gross receipts tax.

18 Anyone engaging in business in New Mexico is subject to the gross receipts tax. See 19 NMSA 1978, § 7-9-4 (2010). To engage in business in New Mexico means "carrying on or causing 20 to be carried on any activity with the purpose of direct or indirect benefit." NMSA 1978, § 7-9-3.3 21 (2019)<sup>6</sup>. Gross receipts include the total amount received "from performing services in New 22 Mexico." NMSA 1978, § 7-9-3.5 (A) (1) (2019). There is a statutory presumption that "all receipts

---

<sup>6</sup> The most current version of statutes and regulations will be referenced unless there is a relevant substantive change between it and the version in effect at the time that the Taxpayer's services were rendered.

1 of a person engaging in business are subject to the gross receipts tax.” NMSA 1978, § 7-9-5 (A) 2 (2019). The Taxpayer admits that it was performing range residue removal services in New 3 Mexico, which are the subject of this assessment. [SF, p. 3-9]. Therefore, the Taxpayer’s receipts 4 for engaging in business in New Mexico by providing its services to the Oscura range and to the 5 Melrose range were subject to the gross receipts tax.

6 The Taxpayer argues that it is entitled to a deduction under Section 7-9-57. [Taxpayer’s 7 Brief]. The burden is on the Taxpayer to prove that it is entitled to an exemption or deduction.
8 See Pub. Servs. Co. v. N.M. Taxation & Revenue Dep’t., 2007-NMCA-050, ¶ 32, 141 N.M. 520.
9 See also Till v. Jones, 1972-NMCA-046, 83 N.M. 743. Because of the presumption that receipts 10 are subject to the gross receipts tax, any exemption or deduction must be clearly established by 11 the taxpayer who is claiming it. See Kewanee Indus., Inc. v. Reese 1993-NMSC-006, ¶ 29, 114 12 N.M. 784. “Where an exemption or deduction from tax is claimed, the statute must be construed 13 strictly in favor of the taxing authority, the right to the exemption or deduction must be clearly 14 and unambiguously expressed in the statute, and the right must be clearly established by the 15 taxpayer.” Sec. Escrow Corp. v. State Taxation & Revenue Dep’t., 1988-NMCA-068, ¶ 8, 107 16 N.M. 540. Tax statutes should be given fair and unbiased construction, without favor or 17 prejudice to either party, so that the legislative intent is effectuated, and the public interest is 18 furthered. See Wing Pawn Shop v. Taxation & Revenue Dep’t., 1991-NMCA-024, ¶ 16, 111 19 N.M. 735. See also Chavez v. Comm’r of Revenue, 1970-NMCA-116, ¶ 7, 82 N.M. 97. See also 20 Pittsburgh & Midway Coal Mining Co. v. Revenue Div., 1983-NMCA-019, 99 N.M. 545.
21 Because exemptions to gross receipts tax are to be strictly construed, taxation is the rule. See 22 Rauscher, Pierce, Refsnes, Inc. v. Taxation & Revenue Dep’t, 2002-NMSC-013, ¶ 11, 132 N.M.
23 226.

1 Section 7-9-54.

2 “Receipts from selling tangible personal property to” a government agency may be deducted 3 from gross receipts, but the portion of those receipts attributable to the performance of a service for 4 a government agency are not deductible. NMSA 1978, § 7-9-54 (A) (2018). See also 3.2.212.9 5 NMAC (A) (2001). The Department argues that this statute “explicitly bars any deduction from 6 gross receipts for the sale of services to government agencies,” irrespective of any other statutory 7 deductions. [Department’s Motion, p. 1]. The Department argues that Section 7-9-54 prevents the 8 Taxpayer from taking a deduction under Section 7-9-57 because its services were performed for a 9 government agency. [Department’s Motion, p. 5-8].

10 The first step in statutory interpretation is to look at the plain language of the statute and 11 to refrain from further interpretation if the plain language is not ambiguous. See Marbob Energy 12 Corp. v. N.M. Oil Conservation Comm’n., 2009-NMSC-013, 146 N.M. 24. Statutes are to be 13 applied as written unless a literal use of the words would lead to an absurd result. See N.M. Real 14 Estate Comm’n. v. Barger, 2012-NMCA-081, ¶ 7. If a statute is ambiguous or would lead to an 15 absurd result, then it should be construed in accordance with the legislative intent or spirit and 16 reason for the statute, even though it may require a substitution or addition of words. See id. See 17 also State ex rel. Helman v. Gallegos, 1994-NMSC-023, 117 N.M. 346. See also Kewanee
18 Indus., Inc., 1993-NMSC-006. When a statute is ambiguous or would lead to an absurd result, it 19 should be construed according to its obvious purpose. See T-N-T Taxi Co. v. N.M. Pub.
20 Regulation Comm’n., 2006-NMSC-016, ¶ 5, 139 N.M. 550. The heading of a statute may be 21 considered in its interpretation, but the heading does not limit or change the plain meaning of the 22 text of the statute. See State v. Gutierrez, 2020-NMCA-045, ¶ 15.

1 Section 7-9-54 has the heading “[d]eduction; gross receipts tax; governmental gross 2 receipts tax; sales to governmental agencies.” NMSA 1978, § 7-9-54. Generally, the receipts 3 from selling tangible personal property to a governmental agency may be deducted from gross 4 receipts. See id. However, “the deduction provided by this subsection does not apply to: ...that 5 portion of the receipts from performing a ‘service’ that reflects the value of tangible personal 6 property utilized or produced in performance of such service.” Id. (emphasis added). The 7 Legislature’s choice of words expresses a clear intent that the exclusions contained in Section 7-8 9-54 only limit the availability of that section. There is no expression of an intent to disallow all 9 deductions for receipts derived from services sold to governmental agencies. Otherwise, the 10 Legislature would not have limited its scope with the use of a single determiner, “this.” The 11 Department’s own regulation also provides that “[r]eceipts from the sale of a service to a 12 governmental agency are not deductible pursuant to Section 7-9-54 NMSA 1978.” 3.2.212.9 (A) 13 NMAC (emphasis added). In its argument, the Department emphasizes the part of the regulation 14 that sale of a service to a government agency is not deductible and fails to address the part of the 15 regulation that limits it to Section 7-9-54. [Department’s Motion, p. 6]. The regulation 16 demonstrates an interpretation of the law consistent with the enactment itself, that the exclusion 17 contained in Section 7-9-54 only applied to Section 7-9-54. There is no indication in the 18 regulation that the statute was interpreted to enact a wider or broader general prohibition on all 19 receipts derived from services sold to governmental agencies. See 3.2.212.9 NMAC. Instead, 20 the Department simply echoed the language that was already contained in the statute, limiting the 21 availability of that single deduction. See id. Moreover, the Department’s argument is 22 inconsistent with the caselaw. See TPL, Inc. v. N.M. Taxation & Revenue Dep’t, 2003-NMSC-23 007, 133 N.M. 447 (holding that Section 7-9-57 afforded a deduction for the sale of a service to a

1 governmental agency). See also In re the Protest of Sandia Corp., Decision & Order No. 19-11, 2 p. 74-80 (Admin. Hearings Office, April 19, 2019) (non-precedential) (rejecting the 3 Department’s argument that Section 7-9-54 precluded deductions from being taken under 4 Section 7-9-57 and finding that the Department’s position was inconsistent with caselaw and its 5 own publications).

6 Section 7-9-57.

7 Generally, sales of a service to an out-of-state buyer who provides a nontaxable 8 transaction certificate or other suitable evidence may be deducted from gross receipts “unless the 9 buyer of the service or any of the buyer’s employees or agents makes initial use of the product of 10 the service in New Mexico or takes delivery of the product of the service in New Mexico.” 11 NMSA 1978, § 7-9-57 (A) (2000). The statute only requires that a buyer be out-of-state. See id.
12 It does not explicitly classify or exclude receipts based solely on the identity of a buyer, such as a 13 governmental agency. See id.

14 Out-of-state buyer.

15 The Department argues that the ACC is not an out-of-state buyer because “[i]ts 16 headquarters may be out-of-state, but it has a presence is [sic] in every state, including New 17 Mexico.” [Department’s Motion, p. 9]. The Department made a similar argument, which did not 18 prevail, in TPL. See TPL, 2003-NMSC-007, ¶ 5 (noting that the Department argued that the 19 federal government and all of its military agencies are present in New Mexico). Moreover, the 20 Department’s own regulation says that a buyer who has a presence in New Mexico may still take 21 the deduction under Section 7-9-57 when the product of the service performed in New Mexico is 22 delivered and initially used outside of New Mexico. See 3.2.215.12 (B) NMAC (2000).
23 Therefore, the fact that a governmental agency may have a presence in New Mexico does not

1 prohibit the Taxpayer from claiming the deduction under Section 7-9-57 so long as the product 2 of the service is delivered to the buyer outside of New Mexico, and the buyer makes the initial 3 use of the product of the service outside of New Mexico.

4 Initial use or delivery of the product of the service.

5 The Taxpayer argues that the contract provided that all deliverables were deemed 6 delivered in Virginia. [Taxpayer’s Brief, p. 8]. The contract between the parties does not decide 7 the issue of state taxation. See Holt v. N.M. Dep’t. of Taxation & Revenue, 2002-NMSC-034, ¶ 8 25, 133 N.M. 11 (holding “that the Department has the authority to examine information or 9 evidence in order to determine or establish an individual’s tax liability.”) The Taxpayer argues 10 that it is entitled to the deduction because the product of its service is identical to that in TPL.
11 [Taxpayer’s Brief, p. 7; Taxpayer’s Response, p. 4]. Although the Taxpayer’s situation is similar 12 to TPL, there are several crucial differences that lead to a different conclusion in this protest.

13 In TPL, the court found that concerns about competition were paramount to the 14 interpretation of the deduction because “[t]here was no requirement that the services be 15 performed in New Mexico.” TPL, 2003-NMSC-007, ¶ 30. The services in TPL were performed 16 on personal property that was not located in New Mexico prior to the contract. See id. at ¶ 22, ¶ 17 25. The court did not impute use or delivery on movable personal property that was shipped into 18 New Mexico for service. See id. at ¶ 23. Unlike TPL, the range debris was in New Mexico prior 19 to the Taxpayer’s contract. [Ex. #4]. Unlike TPL, the Taxpayer was required to perform its 20 services within New Mexico, as it had to do on-site inspections and coordinate its plans with the 21 range managers. [Ex. #4]. When the range site was closed by the manager, the Taxpayer was 22 unable to perform its services. [Ex. #9]. The ACC informed bidders about New Mexico taxes, 23 which is a clear indication that the ACC intended for the services to be performed in New

1 Mexico. [Ex. #4]. The contract required the Taxpayer to deliver copies of its final reports to the 2 range managers in New Mexico. [Ex. #4].

3 In TPL, a New Mexico company was providing demilitarization services for an out-of-4 state governmental agency. See TPL, 2003-NMSC-007. The Taxpayer is a California company 5 providing demilitarization services in New Mexico for an out-of-state governmental agency.
6 [SF, p. 1, ¶ 1]. In TPL, the court found that the deduction under Section 7-9-57 was restricted 7 “to situations where competition with firms from other states is of paramount concern because 8 the service could be performed equally well in any state.” TPL, 2003-NMSC-007, ¶ 20. Hence, 9 according to the court’s rationale, the deduction is meant to prevent New Mexico companies 10 from being “at a competitive disadvantage in facing firms from other states if required to pay 11 gross receipts tax on these contracts.” Id., at ¶ 30. In contrast to the situation in TPL, where the 12 court determined that the deduction would ensure a level playing field for in-state companies 13 providing services in New Mexico that could have been performed elsewhere, the Taxpayer is an 14 out-of-state company providing services in New Mexico that were required to be performed in 15 New Mexico. Therefore, the Taxpayer was not at a competitive disadvantage to any other 16 company because any company that was required to perform these services in New Mexico 17 would be subject to the New Mexico gross receipts tax. See id. See also Wing Pawn Shop, 18 1991-NMCA-024, ¶ 16 (noting that tax statutes should be construed to effectuate the legislative 19 intent). See also Chavez, 1970-NMCA-015, ¶ 7. Thus, the rationale underlying the decision in 20 TPL is not applicable to the facts and claim for deduction in the Taxpayer’s protest.

21 To identify the product of the service, one must “determine what benefit the buyer 22 received”. TPL, 2003-NMSC-007, ¶ 12. See also N.M. Taxation & Revenue Dep’t v. Dean
23 Baldwin Painting, Inc., 2007-NMCA-153, ¶ 9, 143 N.M. 189. It can be difficult to distinguish

1 between the service itself and the product of the service. See TPL, 2003-NMSC-007, ¶ 13. In 2 TPL, the court found that the product of the service was “freedom from responsibility for 3 dangerous munitions.” Id. at ¶ 16. The Taxpayer argues that the product of its service was the 4 same as that in TPL. [Taxpayer’s Brief, p. 7; Taxpayer’s Response, p. 4]. However, the 5 Taxpayer’s contracted services were more specific than those in TPL. [Ex. #4]. See also TPL, 6 2003-NMSC-007. Like TPL, the Taxpayer provided demilitarization services. [Ex. #4; SF, p. 1, 7 ¶ 1]. See also TPL, 2003-NMSC-007. Unlike TPL, the Taxpayer’s services were required to 8 occur at two specific range sites in New Mexico. [SF, p. 4-7; Ex. #4; Ex. #6; Ex. #10]. See also 9 TPL, 2003-NMSC-007. Consequently, the product of the Taxpayer’s service was remediated 10 range sites in New Mexico. When services are performed to improve a piece of real property, 11 the initial use and delivery of the product of the service is necessarily where the real property is 12 located. See TPL, 2003-NMSC-007, ¶ 21. In such situations, a buyer need not be physically 13 present to make initial use or take delivery. See id. “[T]he key factor in any of these scenarios is 14 the necessity that the services be performed upon the real property within New Mexico.” Id.

15 Since the court’s decision in TPL, the issue of the deduction under Section 7-9-57 has 16 been addressed a few times in protests. See In re the Protest of Dean Baldwin Painting, Inc., 17 Decision & Order No. 06-08 (Admin. Hearings Office, May 8, 2006) (non-precedential). See In 18 re the Protest of JTC, Inc., Decision & Order No. 18-17 (Admin. Hearings Office, June 6, 2018)
19 (non-precedential). See In re the Protest of Advanced Env’tl. Solutions, Inc., Decision & Order 20 No. 18-42 (Admin. Hearings Office, December 3, 2018) (non-precedential). See In re the 21 Protest of Sandia Corp., Decision & Order No. 19-11.

22 In Dean Baldwin Painting, the taxpayer painted airplanes that were flown into New 23 Mexico for the service, a situation more closely related to that in TPL than the Taxpayer’s

1 situation. See In re the Protest of Dean Baldwin Painting, Inc., Decision & Order No. 06-08.

2 The hearing officer found that the initial use or delivery of the product of the service occurred in 3 New Mexico because the taxpayer's crew took possession of the painted airplanes in New 4 Mexico and then flew them back to the taxpayer's hub. See id. The court found that the initial 5 use of the painted airplanes, for their intended purpose of carrying passengers or cargo, did not 6 occur in New Mexico. See Dean Baldwin Painting, Inc., 2007-NMCA-153, ¶ 10. However, the 7 court upheld the conclusion that delivery of the product of the service occurred in New Mexico 8 when the taxpayer's crew took possession of the painted airplanes, a fact that distinguished the 9 taxpayer's case from TPL. See id. at ¶ 25-27.

10 In JTC, the taxpayer primarily painted large architectural structures and provided blasting 11 and coating services. See In re the Protest of JTC, Inc., Decision & Order No. 18-17. The 12 hearing officer found that the taxpayer was not entitled to the deduction for several reasons, 13 including that the product of the taxpayer's service was for inclusion in a construction project in 14 New Mexico. See id. at p. 14.

15 In Advanced, the taxpayer provided services by removing hazardous materials. See In re
16 the Protest of Advanced Env'tl. Solutions, Inc., Decision & Order No. 18-42. The hearing officer 17 found that the product of the service was initially used or delivered in New Mexico because it 18 involved the removal of hazardous materials from specific sites in New Mexico. See id.

19 In Sandia, the taxpayer provided research and development services on a wide variety of 20 projects, including software programs and sensors. See In re the Protest of Sandia Corp., 21 Decision & Order No. 19-11. The hearing officer found that the products of the services were 22 delivered and initially used on projects, such as the space shuttle, outside of New Mexico. See 23 id. Consequently, the taxpayer was entitled to take the deduction. See id.

1           When personal property is shipped into New Mexico for service, a taxpayer’s eligibility 2 for the deduction under Section 7-9-57 will depend on where the product of that service is 3 initially used and delivered, that is whether it occurs inside of or outside of New Mexico. See 4 TPL, 2003-NMSC-007. See also Dean Baldwin Painting, Inc., 2007-NMCA-153. When the 5 product of the service is initially used and delivered outside of New Mexico, a taxpayer is 6 entitled to the deduction under Section 7-9-57. See TPL, 2003-NMSC-007. See also In re the 7 Protest of Sandia Corp., Decision & Order No. 19-11. When the product of the service directly 8 involves a specific location inside of New Mexico, then the product of the service is initially 9 used or delivered at that location within New Mexico, and a taxpayer is not entitled to take the 10 deduction under Section 7-9-57. See TPL, 2003-NMSC-007. See also In re the Protest of JTC, 11 Inc., Decision & Order No. 18-17. See also In re the Protest of Advanced Env’tl. Solutions, Inc., 12 Decision & Order No. 18-42. The product of the Taxpayer’s service is two range sites located 13 within New Mexico that have been remediated of their range debris. As remediated range sites 14 in New Mexico cannot be used or delivered anywhere other than in New Mexico, the ACC’s 15 initial use or delivery occurred within New Mexico, and the Taxpayer is not entitled to the 16 deduction. See NMSA 1978, § 7-9-57.

17 Assessment of Penalty.

18           Tax includes, by definition, the amount of tax principal imposed and, unless the context 19 otherwise requires, “the amount of any interest or civil penalty relating thereto.” NMSA 1978, § 20 7-1-3 (Z) (2019). See also El Centro Villa Nursing Ctr. v. Taxation and Revenue Department, 21 1989-NMCA-070, 108 N.M. 795. Penalty “shall be added to the amount assessed” when a tax is 22 not paid on time due to negligence. See NMSA 1978, § 7-1-69 (2007) (emphasis added).
23 However, a taxpayer will generally not be negligent when the taxpayer relied on advice from tax

1 counsel or an accountant. See 3.1.11.11 NMAC (2001). The Taxpayer did not argue or provide 2 evidence to show that it was not negligent. Therefore, penalty was properly assessed.

3 Assessment of Interest.

4 Interest “shall be paid” on taxes that are not paid on or before the date on which the tax is 5 due. NMSA 1978, § 7-1-67 (A). The word “shall” indicates that the assessment of interest is 6 mandatory, not discretionary. See Marbob, 2009-NMSC-013, ¶ 22. The assessment of interest is 7 not designed to punish taxpayers, but to compensate the state for the time value of unpaid 8 revenues. Because the tax was not paid when it was due, interest was properly assessed.

9 CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

10 A. The Taxpayer filed a timely, written protest of the Department’s assessment and 11 jurisdiction lies over the parties and the subject matter of this protest. See NMSA 1978, § 7-1B-8.

12 B. The hearing was timely set and held within 90 days of the protest. See id.

13 C. The Taxpayer’s receipts for performing services in New Mexico were subject to the 14 gross receipts tax. See NMSA 1978, §§ 7-9-3.5, 7-9-4, and 7-9-5.

15 D. Sales of services to out-of-state governmental agencies may be eligible for deduction 16 under Section 7-9-57 as Section 7-9-54 does not abrogate or limit the application of deductions 17 under any other subsection. See NMSA 1978, § 7-9-54 and § 7-9-57.

18 E. Sales of services to governmental agencies that have a presence in New Mexico may 19 be eligible for the deduction under Section 7-9-57 if the product of the service is delivered and 20 initially used outside of New Mexico. See NMSA 1978, § 7-9-57. See also 3.2.215.12 (B) NMAC.

21 F. The product of the Taxpayer’s service was remediated range sites in New Mexico; 22 therefore, the buyer made initial use or took delivery of the product of the service in New Mexico,

1 and the Taxpayer was not entitled to the deduction under Section 7-9-57. See NMSA 1978, § 7-9-2 57. See also TPL, 2003-NMSC-007.

3 G. The Taxpayer failed to establish that it was entitled to take the deduction and failed 4 to overcome the presumption that the assessment was correct. See Pub. Servs. Co., 2007-NMCA-5 050, ¶32. See also Till, 1972-NMCA-046. See also NMSA 1978, § 7-1-17.

6 For the foregoing reasons, the Taxpayer's protest IS DENIED. IT IS ORDERED that 7 Taxpayer is liable for the total assessment of $61,167.87. Interest continues to accrue until tax 8 principal is paid.

16 NOTICE OF RIGHT TO APPEAL

17 Pursuant to NMSA 1978, Section 7-1-25 (2015), the parties have the right to appeal this 18 decision by filing a notice of appeal with the New Mexico Court of Appeals within 30 days of the 19 date shown above. If an appeal is not timely filed with the Court of Appeals within 30 days, this 20 Decision and Order will become final. Rule of Appellate Procedure 12-601 NMRA articulates 21 the requirements of perfecting an appeal of an administrative decision with the Court of Appeals.
22 Either party filing an appeal shall file a courtesy copy of the appeal with the Administrative 23 Hearings Office contemporaneous with the Court of Appeals filing so that the Administrative 24 Hearings Office may begin preparing the record proper. The parties will each be provided with a 25 copy of the record proper at the time of the filing of the record proper with the Court of Appeals,

1 which occurs within 14 days of the Administrative Hearings Office receipt of the docketing 2 statement from the appealing party. See Rule 12-209 NMRA.
